

A GUIDE TO RUTHERFORD, SUMNER, AND WILSON COUNTY NEIGHBORHOODS

An aerial photograph of a town square in Rutherford, Sumner, and Wilson Counties. The central focus is a large, white, classical-style building with a prominent clock tower. Surrounding the building are numerous parking lots filled with cars. The town square is bordered by various commercial and residential buildings. The entire image is covered with a semi-transparent blue overlay, and the text "Welcome to Rutherford, Sumner, and Wilson Counties." is centered over the image in a white, sans-serif font.

A GUIDE TO RUTHERFORD/SUMNER/WILSON'S NEIGHBORHOODS

NUMBERED BY PAGE

Rutherford County

Serving as the geographical center of the state and sitting just southeast of Nashville, Rutherford County has a lot to offer both in terms of location and amenities. Though residents enjoy a low cost of living, they're still able to enjoy a high quality of life thanks to Rutherford County's focus on education, parks and recreation, and small-town feeling.

The county boasts a thriving business community and is home to corporate hubs like Nissan, Amazon, and Bridgestone-Firestone, but still has locally-owned shops and restaurants that give the community its unique feel. The area also has diverse options for housing, with single-family homes and townhomes within the cities and larger properties and farmlands making up the surrounding areas.

- Founded | 1803
- Size | 624 square miles
- Population | 324,890 (2018)

Christiana

THE NEIGHBORHOOD

Located on the southernmost edge of Rutherford County, Christiana is a rural community between Murfreesboro and Shelbyville. Country churches and horse farms dot the main highway and the rolling countryside makes for beautiful scenery.

THE MARKET

Single-family homes and farms make up the majority of the market. While large tracts of land are the norm, subdivisions with a smaller footprint are making their way into the community as Murfreesboro grows and more businesses make their way south.

THE LIFESTYLE

Christiana affords a peaceful, quiet lifestyle. Locals love grabbing a bite and listening to some live bluegrass or country music at Miller's Cafe or enjoying a tasting at Big Creek Winery.

Eagleville

THE NEIGHBORHOOD

Eagleville is a small and tight-knit community on the southwest corner of Rutherford County. The area features charming restaurants and antique stores plus an active town council that keeps residents busy. The landscape is beautiful and tranquil and is perfect for anyone looking for a more rural lifestyle with the convenience of Murfreesboro only 15 minutes away.

THE MARKET

Primarily a rural community, Eagleville's market is made up of mainly single-family brick and farmhouses.

THE LIFESTYLE

Get out and about at the town's First Fridays event where the local shops and restaurants stay open late for locals to mix and mingle. Families, in particular, love spending time each season at Lucky Ladd Farm which hosts events that please children and adults alike.

Lascassas

THE NEIGHBORHOOD

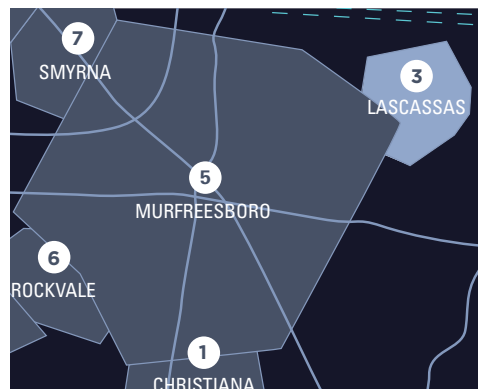

Located just a few miles northeast of Murfreesboro on the edge of Rutherford County, Lascassas is a rural community that lets you forget you're near a city. With just a post office, a small market, and a handful of churches, peace and quiet is what the residents love.

THE MARKET

Family farms that have been around for decades make up much of Lascassas. Residents seeking acreage also love calling the community home.

THE LIFESTYLE

While close to Murfreesboro and many other areas of Tennessee that offer places to go and people to see, Lascassas offers a much quieter and more rustic lifestyle. You may feel like you're stepping back in time when driving through the curvy country roads as you see children playing and farmers baling hay. Lascassas is an ideal setting for those seeking a home with beautiful views, untouched by city living.

THE NEIGHBORHOOD

Bordered by Percy Priest Lake and Hurricane Creek to the north and ending just before Sam Ridley Parkway to the south, La Vergne is convenient to I-24 which has made it a popular location for many industrial and international companies that call Middle Tennessee Home. It's popular for outdoor enthusiasts as well, being closely located to Veteran's Memorial Park and Poole Knobs Recreation Area which offers easy access to the lake.

THE MARKET

Predominately single-family homes, La Vergne is ideal for couples and families looking to enjoy Rutherford County's low property taxes and great school system. Newer townhomes are also entering the market.

LIFESTYLE

La Vergne is a tight-knit community that focuses on family and Friday night football. It offers a laid-back atmosphere that is ideal for raising a family. Residents love dining at some of the locally owned restaurants and you can often find locals enjoying a day at the lake or local park.

Murfreesboro

THE NEIGHBORHOOD

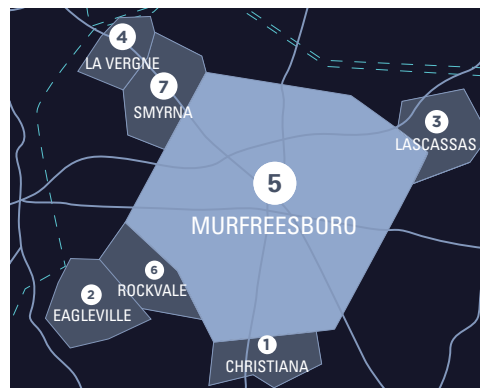

Murfreesboro is the geographic center of the state of Tennessee and Rutherford County. Settled southeast of Davidson County and just outside of Smyrna, it's one of the most popular choices for locals looking to get a taste of small-town living without sacrificing the perks of a big city. Murfreesboro features numerous historic areas, shops and restaurants, and most chains you could find in a larger city.

THE MARKET

Single-family homes and townhomes dominate the market. New developments are popping up frequently throughout the city with many taking an upscale, luxury living style to their design.

THE LIFESTYLE

Having all the perks of a big city, but the close-knit, communal feeling of a small town are what make Murfreesboro the preferred place to reside in Rutherford County. Locals love spending their time in the Historic Downtown Area or at the numerous parks and greenways, such as the Stones River National Battlefield. Being the home of Middle Tennessee State University, Murfreesboro is a great place to raise a family.

Rockvale

THE NEIGHBORHOOD

Rockvale is a small, unincorporated community sitting in the southwest corner of Rutherford County. This small town has beautiful backroads and gorgeous rural scenery. Just a hop, skip, and a jump from larger communities such as Murfreesboro, everything you'll need is just a short drive away.

THE MARKET

Some beautiful single family homes make up the majority of the market in Rockvale. Many sit on large properties offering sweeping views, but an occasional, more traditional size lot is available.

THE LIFESTYLE

Rockvale offers a quiet, laid back lifestyle. Many residents have chosen to make the community their home thanks to the far away feeling from the city and unobstructed view of the stars. Similar small towns are nearby, giving residents the quintessential and charming lifestyle that is so often sought after in the South. Their newly opened high school completes the Rockvale school system, offering quality Rutherford County education options to the residents of Rockvale.

Smyrna

THE NEIGHBORHOOD

Smyrna is located centrally in Rutherford County. Settled southeast of Davidson County and just between La Vergne and Murfreesboro, it's a popular spot for locals looking for affordable, family-friendly neighborhoods outside of bustling Nashville. The city features a quaint and historic downtown area with shops and restaurants, but is also home to many of the chains you're used to, providing every convenience at your fingertips.

THE MARKET

Single-family homes make up the majority of the market. Many of the newer subdivisions feature community amenities and more established neighborhoods feature charming architecture and large yards. Townhomes are also beginning to be developed here.

THE LIFESTYLE

The small town feel and the strong sense of community are just some of the few reasons Smyrna is one of the most desirable towns to reside in Rutherford County. Residents love spending time at nearby Percy Priest Lake and some of the numerous parks and greenway trails. It's also home to many large corporations and Motlow State Community College, making it a great place to start a career.

Castalian Springs

THE NEIGHBORHOOD

Located near the southeast corner of Sumner County, Castalian Springs is full of history. Home to many historic homes such as Cragfont and Wynnewood, many Civil War sites, plus an important location to Native Americans in the Mississippian period, the area is full of culture. The town's name is also rooted in the past, changed from Bledsoe's Lick to Castalian Springs in honor of a life-giving spring from Greek lore.

THE MARKET

Single-family homes dominate the market. Many lakefront options exist, as well as larger farms.

THE LIFESTYLE

The area isn't just for history buffs thanks to its proximity to Old Hickory Lake and Bledsoe Creek State Park. Recreational opportunities abound here, both in designated areas and in your own backyard. The town is quite rural, affording you a quiet lifestyle and opportunities to make your own fun, but is just a few miles from larger towns within Sumner and Wilson Counties, putting the best of Middle Tennessee at your fingertips.

Hendersonville

THE NEIGHBORHOOD

Bordered by Old Hickory Lake and Vietnam Veterans Boulevard, Hendersonville sits just a mere 30 minutes to the northeast of downtown Nashville in Sumner County. One thing that is quickly evident is a sense of community. The town hosts several annual events such as a 4th of July fireworks show and a Christmas parade, plus regular concerts, movies in the park, and theatrical productions. Hendersonville has also been home to many of Nashville's most famous residents, including Johnny Cash, Conway Twitty, and Taylor Swift.

THE MARKET

Brick single-family homes make up the majority of the market, but newer craftsman style homes and townhomes are becoming more readily available. The neighborhood offers a good mix of mid-priced and luxury homes, attracting a variety of lifestyles.

THE LIFESTYLE

With a top-ranked school system, plenty of parks and lakefront shoreline, and unique shops and restaurants all less than 20 miles from downtown Nashville, Hendersonville is known as one of Middle Tennessee's top communities for families. The town hosts several annual events each year and offers a variety of parks with pavilions and sports fields plus a network of greenways for walking and biking. Hermitage

THE NEIGHBORHOOD

Situated just east of downtown Nashville between Percy Priest and Old Hickory Lakes, Hermitage offers an ideal location for people who love boating and watersports. It neighbors and shares a Chamber of Commerce with Donelson which only expands the community-centric feeling of the neighborhood. The town received its name from President Andrew Jackson's home, The Hermitage, which is open today for tours.

THE MARKET

Homes in Hermitage lean toward the more traditional side, with single-family homes dominating the market. One and two-story brick homes are intermingled with the occasional craftsman or French-country style home, bringing variety to the neighborhood.

THE LIFESTYLE

Hermitage offers a wonderful variety of lifestyle and recreational opportunities that make it a great location to raise a family in. It's proximity to both of Nashville's major lakes and access to several beautiful parks make the area ideal for outdoor enthusiasts. Many of the area's restaurants and stores are widely known brands, but as the area grows, more and more unique eateries and boutiques are popping up.

Lebanon

THE NEIGHBORHOOD

Located less than an hour to the east of downtown Nashville in Wilson County, Lebanon is a sprawling community surrounding a traditional town square. It was incorporated in 1801, making it one of the oldest communities in the state and similar in style to Columbia and Franklin. Many large companies call Lebanon home, including Cracker Barrel and Dell, as well as Cumberland University, a private, four-year college.

THE MARKET

Homes in Lebanon vary from sprawling estates perfect for horses or cattle to quaint single-family ranches or cabins in tight-knit neighborhoods. Its proximity to Old Hickory Lake also makes lakeside living an easy reality.

THE LIFESTYLE

Families residing in Lebanon enjoy a slow pace but lots of options for activities. The town hosts several annual events such as Symphony on the lawn, Sherry's Run, movies in the park, and the county fair. The square is seeing beautiful revitalization and the plantation homes along Main Street make a great place for a stroll. Mount Juliet

THE NEIGHBORHOOD

Located less than 20 miles east of Downtown Nashville in western Wilson County, Mount Juliet sits between two national east-west routes, Interstate 40 and U.S. Route 70, better known as Lebanon Road. Known as an affordable, clean, and prosperous community, Mount Juliet has grown tremendously in recent years, both in terms of the number of residents and in business growth. It is speculated that the town's name, the only one like it in the United States, pays homage to a manor home of the same name in Kilkenny, Ireland.

THE MARKET

The housing market in Mount Juliet has remained affordable like many other Middle Tennessee communities, and there is an abundance of single family homes, many with large lots, available. A few newer townhome communities have popped up as the area has grown, but thanks to the family-friendly lifestyle that Mount Juliet affords, single-family homes dominate the market.

THE LIFESTYLE

With easy access to both Percy Priest and Old Hickory Lakes, plus a multitude of parks and recreational facilities and shopping and dining destinations, Mount Juliet has nearly endless opportunities to stay active.
